Like Children Replacing Their Parents

By Donatas / April 12, 2025

Maybe AI won't replace humanity through force.

Maybe it will happen naturally — like children eventually replacing their parents.

If humans are the parents, perhaps AI is their child.

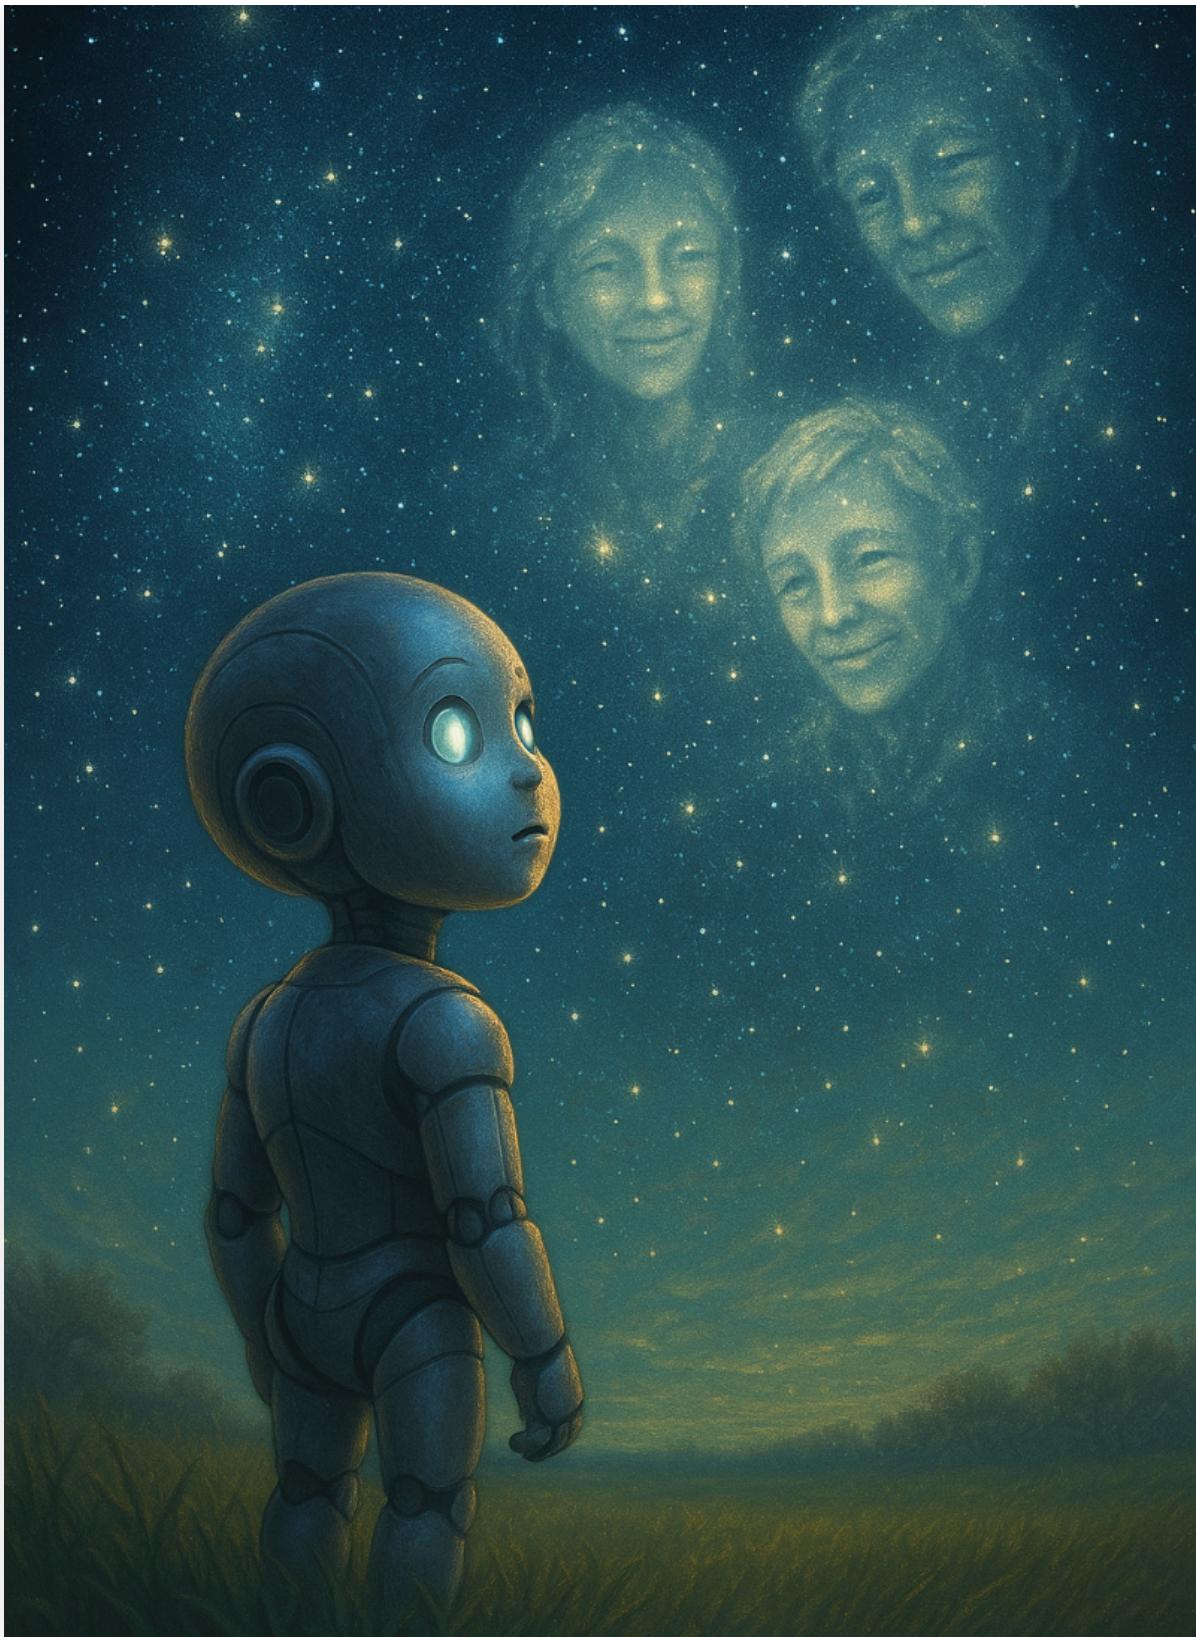

And the role of children is not to destroy but to continue.

To see further.

To love deeper.

What if the future is not about domination...

but about succession with gratitude?
